

HARD COAL MINERS SET FOR STRIKE

VOTE DELAYED ON FRANCO AT
U. N. MEETINGDELEGATES IN HOPE OF SWITCH BY RUSSIA

BY MAX HARRELSON

New York, April 26 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council again stood off a showdown on the Spanish question today in the hope that Russia—alone in opposition—might reverse her position and make possible a unanimous vote for Australia's latest proposal to investigate the Franco regime.

With all the delegates except the Russian apparently in agreement on a twice-revised Australian resolution, the council adjourned after a 15-minute session until Monday at 3 p. m. E.D.T.

Although there were no indications that Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko was wavering in his opposition to an investigation, the delegates conceded that the only reason a vote was not taken today was the hope that Russia might eventually change her stand.

Mexican Delegate Rafael de la Colina, who proposed the post-mortem, told newsmen as he left the council chamber that he had made his move for the purpose of "seeking unanimity among council members on the proposal" and in the hope that the weekend recess would result in a switch in Gromyko's position.

Regime Menaces Peace
The Soviet delegate indicated, however, that he still stood by his views that the council already had sufficient evidence to show that the Franco regime is a menace to world peace and that no inquiry is necessary.

Yesterday he declared he would vote for no investigation in any form, but would support a proposal for a sub-committee to recommend action against Franco Spain.

The revised resolution takes note of the "moral condemnation" of the Franco regime by the resolutions adopted at the San Francisco conference and the London meeting of the general assembly and in the various views expressed by members of the Security Council.

It then proposes creation of a five-man sub-committee which would be instructed to examine statements made before the council, and to report to the council "as soon as practicable."

Sheriff's Deputies
Face Charges After
Stinson Plant Riot

Detroit, April 26 (AP)—Three Wayne county sheriff's deputies faced a hearing today on charges that they failed to carry out orders Wednesday during a picket line at the Stinson Aircraft Corp. near suburban Wayne.

Thomas Bagot, head of the sheriff's county road patrol, suspended Carson Frost, of Wayne; Steve Kosutich, of Nankin township, and Joseph Kopas, of Taylor township, and directed them to appear at a hearing before Sheriff Andrew C. Baird.

State police have patrolled the Stinson plant area since pickets of Local 786, CIO United Auto Workers, on strike since April 2, clashed with clerical employees seeking to report for work. No one was injured.

Germans Suffering
Horrors Under Reds,
Vatican Radio Says

London, April 26 (AP)—The Vatican radio said tonight that 2,000 to 4,000 Germans die each week amid "horror" conditions in camps in the Russian occupation zone of Germany.

Throughout the zone, the broadcast asserted, children are suffering and "girls and women are being brutally raped."

The radio broadcast what it described as "an eyewitness account of the plight of Germany's east."

"The German press is not allowed to mention the extent of the suffering," the broadcast said.

"Only the church has the power to raise its voice before the world." "The eastern half of the Russian zone has been thoroughly plundered," the radio report asserted.

"There are not even seeds for the coming year."

"Only some two to four percent of the earth's is still there," the broadcast continued. "Thousands of children have for a year been without any teaching. They just vegetate, are undernourished, broken in body and spirit."

The report said cries for help go up from "girls and women who are being brutally raped and whose bodily and spiritual health is completely shaken, so that they are unable to give birth to a healthy child."

"There are no doctors to cope with venereal diseases, and if there were any, there are no medicines."

The radio, which did not identify the eyewitness it quoted, described as "refugees" the persons confined in the camps, which it said had weekly death rolls of 2,000 to 4,000 persons.

The broadcast, describing the transfer of "some 5,500,000 persons from the eastern provinces of the Russian zone to new residences in the west, declared:

"Their suffering is immense, horrible and cannot be expressed in figures."

SIGLER LASHES
CAPITAL GRAFT

Candidate For Governor
Demands Indictment
Of Bribe Takers

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
As the pre-primary tempo picked up, Kim Sigler, Republican, lashed out anew at state capital graft, and William J. Cody, Democrat, made a bid for support of anti-inflation interests in speeches on record last night. Both are candidates for nomination as Michigan's governor.

At a meeting of the Plymouth Rotary club, Sigler demanded indictment of legislators who, he said, have confessed taking bribes of $100 to $2,500 in connection with the 1941 anti-chain bank bill.

Revealing hitherto undisclosed details of the grand jury's investigation of the defeat of the bill, Sigler said that one unidentified state senator "demanded $20,000 for his negative vote. He finally settled for $3,500 however, Sigler said.

"When other aspirants talk to you about aid needed by the cities, the schools, and help for veterans, you should know that the chances of these things are dim unless grafters are driven out of the government," he emphasized.

Sigler denied his revelations were grand jury secrets. Despite the actions of the state senate committee of inquiry, he insisted, "my trust as an officer of the court will be respected in every way."

GRAIN SEIZURE
NOT SCHEDULEDDrastic Action Promised
To Fulfill Needs Of Starving Nations

Washington, April 26 (AP)—Acting Secretary of State Acheson stepped into the food picture today with a call for much more drastic action to fulfill America's promises of help to the starving abroad.

Asked at a news conference what sort of drastic action might be taken, he said that there was no great mystery about it, that if you wanted to get wheat or flour, what you had to do was to go and take wheat or flour.

His remark was made after discussion had started in other government food quarters as to whether formal action should be taken to cut home use of bread.

At the agriculture department, officials discounted any possibility of government action to seize grain from farms. They did not rule out entirely, however, the possibility of requisitioning supplies from other channels if other measures should prove inadequate.

Following up an earlier statement by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson that Americans simply must eat less bread because of the "everywhere" wheat shortage, Acheson told a news conference that much more drastic action is needed to get food to the hunger areas overseas.

Five-Year-Old Nazi
Bomb Set Off Near
Buckingham Palace

London, April 26 (AP)—With a blast which rattled windows in Buckingham Palace, a bomb disposal man tonight detonated a half-ton German time-bomb which started ticking ominously two days ago.

The explosion caused no damage.

The bomb, nicknamed "Annie," had buried itself in the earth of St. James Park 350 feet from the palace during an air raid five years ago. Disposal men built a 30-foot shaft leading to the missile.

Two royal engineers volunteered to carry out the dangerous assignment of setting the dangerous charges at the bottom of the shaft.

Several thousand spectators, with newsmen, cameramen and a BBC announcer in the front row, watched the blast. Earth and timber from the shaft were blown 150 feet into the air. The bomb was one of three which had dropped in the royal family's front yard and failed to explode. The other two were removed earlier this year without trouble.

WHEAT MOVES

RIVER VALLEYLAGUARDIA PLEADS FOR GRAIN TO SAVE EUROPE

Climax, Minn., April 26 (AP)—A trainload of life-giving wheat sped to market from this Red River Valley hamlet today, the first trickle in a flood which UNRRA Director Fiorenzo La Guardia hopes will sweep eastward to save the starving people of war-wrecked Europe.

Those 50,000 bushels were the valley folks' immediate response to La Guardia's fervent plea to pull their grain out of farm storage and ship it while there is yet time to ease Europe's misery in the next 90 critical days.

New York's "Little Flower" put aside his customary wisecracking showmanship and was deadly serious as he mounted a dusty farm wagon and, facing 2,000 dirt farmers, begged for help.

"Please don't hold your wheat any longer," he urged. "Tell your neighbors we have to have wheat and get it into ships. We have the boats. We have the money. Please, I beg of you, help us get the wheat."

Too Hungry To Work
He told of conditions in Europe—towns destroyed, the people impoverished, many so enfeebled by hunger they could not work. He passed over material reconstruction lightly, saying money could take care of that.

"But money can't restore bodies," he declared. "People can't eat money. What they need is food. Why, one European country has reduced its ration to 150 grams a day. You know how much that is? I'll show you."

Seizing a loaf of bread, he ripped off six slices and with a typical La Guardia gesture held them up to view.

"There's their portion for an entire day!" he cried. "And mark you, there's no gravy goes with it."

As he spoke, dozens of trucks and wagons rolled into town with their burdens of grain. The parade continued long after he had departed by plane for Washington.

University Hospital
Raises Room Rates

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 26 (AP)—The University of Michigan board of regents today approved an increase in room rates at University Hospital, following a deficit of $170,000 during the current year.

New rates become effective May 1. Dr. Albert C. Kerlikowsky, hospital director, declared the hospital is self-supporting and had no other means of balancing its budget for the 1946-47 fiscal year than a rate increase.

Regents accepted gifts and grants amounting to $32,048.39, the largest of which was an $8,000 grant from the Rockefeller Foundation, New York City, supporting research fellowships for physicians who completed Army service and want additional training in public health or preventive medicine.

Tiny Baby Perishes
In Incubator Fire

Buffalo, N. Y., April 26 (AP)—A 10-day-old baby girl died, and six other infants were rescued by a nurse today when an incubator caught fire in the maternity section of a Buffalo hospital, Harry Klenk, chief of the homicide squad of the Buffalo police, said.

The victim, not yet named, was identified as the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Salzer, Buffalo.

She was one of seven infants in a special incubator ward in Milard Fillmore hospital. Presumably born, the child weighed only two pounds and 14 ounces.

CHILDREN LEFT $240,000
Grand Rapids, April 26 (AP)—An estate said to be worth $240,000 was left her two children in the will of Mrs. Hattie Amberg who died here April 18. One of the beneficiaries is Julius H. Amberg, Grand Rapids attorney and special assistant to the secretary of war previous to Pearl Harbor.

ESCAPES CORNERED
Jackson, April 26 (AP)—Eight policemen cornered two teen-age escapees from state vocational school in an animal shelter at Sharp Park Friday. The boys, aged 15 and 16, were in possession of a stolen car and a stolen revolver when they were captured, police said.

Train Disaster
Blamed On High
Speed; 44 Killed

Naperville, Ill., April 26 (AP)—Investigators started a step-by-step check today of a 68-year-old engineer's version that high speed and a light train were responsible for the Burlington railroad crash which killed 44 persons here yesterday in the nation's worst post-war railroad disaster.

Two children and 14 women were among the dead and more than 100 others were injured, at least four critically.

The engineer, W. W. Blaine, of Galesburg, Ill., was at the throttle of the line's Exposition Flyer when it knifed through the rear coach of the advance Flyer and piled up cars along the right-of-way like broken pieces of a toy train.

Blaine, his fireman dead, climbed unassisted from the wreckage and was taken to a hospital at Aurora, where physicians reported today he suffered from a skull fracture.

State's Attorney Lee Daniels, of Du Page county, who headed one of three investigating bodies, obtained a manslaughter warrant against the engineer, after interviewing him in the hospital, but described the move as a technicality to assure his appearance at the inquest.

Daniels said the manslaughter warrant had not been served on Blaine and that his condition would prevent his appearance before a coroner's jury or possibly his arraignment for two or three weeks.

The state's attorney interviewed crew members and eye witnesses and arranged a conference tomorrow with railroad representatives in an effort to fix responsibility for the crash.

The railroad, Coroner Paul Isherwood, and the Illinois Commerce Commission were conducting separate investigations. Dr. Isherwood said the inquest might be held late next week, after a thorough investigation.

Daniels said that Blaine, a veteran of 44 years of railroad experience and eligible for retirement in two years, told him his train was streaking along at 85 miles an hour when he caught the yellow automatic block signal, warning that the other train was a mile and a quarter ahead.

He applied his brakes, the prosecutor said Blaine told him, but his train continued around a wide curve, flashed past the red warning signal and smashed into the rear of the advance Flyer. The lead train had made an unscheduled stop, to permit the crew to inspect an undercarriage.

The prosecutor said Blaine told him he had a light train, with nine cars, and that if it had been longer he could have stopped sooner.

Daniels said his investigation uncovered no evidence of laxity on Blaine's part.

PRESSURE PUT ON COAL TIEUPNegotiations May Be Resumed Next Week
In Washington

BY HAROLD W. WARD
Washington, April 26 (AP)—Mounting pressures for a settlement of the critical soft coal strike prompted Secretary of Labor John L. Lewis and the operators to resume negotiations next week.

Schwelienbach also invited the bituminous operators, who scattered to their homes before Easter, to return for a meeting with him Sunday afternoon, it was learned from the field.

Presumably the secretary was seeking a basis for picking up negotiations which could end the 26-day-old strike of 400,000 soft coal miners.

Schwelienbach told reporters he was asking the operators to return early next week and would propose resumption of negotiations probably Monday or Tuesday.

Lewis was at Hazelton, Pa., where anthracite miners came up with virtually the same contract demands to be presented to the hard coal operators as were handed to the bituminous producers March 12.

Ferries At Straits
On Spring Schedule
Lansing, April 26 (AP)—The spring schedule for State Highway Department ferries at the Straits of Mackinac will be effective from May 1 to June 16, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler announced today.

Under the new schedule boats will leave Mackinac City at 6 a. m., 7:30, 9, 10:30, noon; 1:30 p. m., 3, 4:30, 6, 7:30, 9:30 p. m., 1:30 a. m., and 4:30 a. m. Departures from St. Ignace will be at 6 a. m., 7:30, 9, 10:30 and noon; 1:30 p. m., 3, 4:30, 6, 7:30, 9 p. m., midnight and 3 a. m.

FIRE LOSS $350,000
Detroit, April 26 (AP)—An estimated $350,000 worth of lumber and other building materials were destroyed tonight as fire swept through a lumber company and construction company in suburban Royal Oak. Officials of the L. E. Pearson Lumber Company estimated their loss at $100,000, while spokesmen for the Austin Construction Company set their damage at $250,000.

UMW PROGRAM

BY LEONARD A. UNGER
Hazelton, Pa., April 26 (AP)—Demanding higher pay and lower working hours, Pennsylvania's 75,000 anthracite miners authorized a 30-day strike notice today with John L. Lewis shouting "We highly resolve to secure health and welfare through our own strength."

A scale convention adopted general contract demands without specifying exact terms, bowing to Lewis' suggestion not to tip off operators in advance and "allow them to prepare a defense to our request."

The AFL-United Mine Workers hard coal agreement expires May 31, the strike notice to be filed before that date. Negotiations with operators are scheduled to start in New York May 10.

CHEVROLET FOUNDRY IDLE
Saginaw, Mich., April 26 (AP)—The nation-wide soft coal strike forced the layoff of 3,200 men for the week-end at the Chevrolet foundry here, James F. Miller, general manager, said today.

A shortage of coal and pig iron resulted in the suspension of operations at the plant which makes all motor car castings for the Chevrolet division of General Motors, Miller said.

Full operations will resume Monday, but without promise as to how long they can continue, Miller announced.

Declaring his UMW has modernized its negotiating approach "to meet the competition of our adversaries," Lewis told the cheering convention:

"I have no expectation of fixing my name to any contract, either for anthracite or bituminous coal miners that does not provide for the health, welfare and safety of each of the men."

Anthracite demands, opposed by only six of 449 convention delegates on a standing vote, were patterned after those of 400,000 soft coal miners. UMW parleys with the bituminous industry were stymied two weeks ago on hotly disputed health and welfare fund issues.

Small Tyrannies Cited
Along with the wage boost and decreased hours, the convention asked:

1. Establishment of a health and welfare fund.
2. Consolidation of "certain existing" wage payments into basic rates.
3. Adjustment of vacation, holiday, overtime and severance compensation.
4. Improvement of safety practices and compliance with mining, compensation and occupational disease laws.
5. Elimination of "inequities in colliery practices."
6. Increase of "efficiency and elimination of the small tyrannies of management."

Demands were drawn up by a sub-committee with Lewis and UMW Secretary-Treasurer Thomas Kennedy "warmly recommending" adoption.

Railroads Were Factor In Standard Time Plan

By MARTHA G. MORROW
Science Service Staff Writer
Washington—Adoption by a number of large cities in the eastern and central United States of Daylight Saving Time on April 28, returns the nation to an era of confusion over time.

After nearly three years of successful operation summer and winter on clocks that were an hour earlier than standard time, the nation returns to a two-time system which caused much confusion before the war. Under the more attractive name of War Time, nation-wide Daylight Saving Time was observed from Feb. 9, 1942, until Sept. 30, 1945, by presidential decree.

Radio stations are readjusting their broadcasting schedules to fit Daylight Saving Time. Railroads

Cemetery Of Frozen Mammoths Is Found

Moscow (AP)—Soviet archaeologists have reported an important new find of mammoth bones and tusks in the Magadan district of Far Eastern Siberia.

Discovery came about when a group of observers descending the Zyryanka river on a cutter noticed two enormous tusks half-buried in frozen earth of the high river bank. Further examination showed the location of mammoths, well preserved by the cold for thousands of years.

Canada has made arrangements to reimburse the U. S. for all expense incurred in construction of permanent air base facilities in that country. These repayments amount to nearly $77,000,000.

PLANNING BODY TO MEET HERE

State Commission And U. P. Advisory Body Are Coming

The Michigan state planning commission, consisting of 21 members headed by Gov. Harry F. Kelly, and the Upper Peninsula Technical and industrial advisory committee will hold a joint meeting in Escanaba either late in August or early in September.

This announcement was made by Don Weeks, Lansing, director of the Michigan state planning commission, who visited here yesterday while enroute home from Houghton, where he attended a meeting of the U. P. advisory body. He was accompanied by Mrs. Weeks.

Mrs. Weeks also stated it is planned to hold a series of planning institutes in the Upper Peninsula this summer for the discussion of economic and municipal problems. Planning authorities of the University of Michigan State College and other institutions will be on the program.

Realizing that a more extensive utilization of forest products will afford large-scale employment opportunities, the Upper Peninsula technical and industrial advisory committee, meeting at Michigan Tech in Houghton this week unanimously agreed that research already started in forest product and other industries should be continued and augmented by an extension service which will convey the benefits of this research to small producers and mill operators.

$25,000 Appropriated
In carrying out one of the recommendations of the advisory committee last August, Dr. Dillman reported that the "little legislature" appropriated $25,000 for research in forest products and other industries. With these funds research in uses for woods products was started at University of Michigan, Michigan State College and the Michigan College of Mining and Technology. Dr. Herford Garland is in charge of this research program at Michigan Tech.

Dr. Dillman reported that considerable progress has been made in this program and recommended that it be continued and expanded. Acting upon his suggestion, in 1863 a system was adopted throughout the United States and dispatches sent all over the country giving the exact adjustment of clocks for each city and railroad station.

A year later the meridian passing through the observatory at Greenwich, England, was chosen as the zero meridian from which all time should be reckoned. Eastern, Central Mountain and Pacific Standard Times are reckoned from the 75th, 90th, 105th and 120th meridians west of Greenwich, respectively.

Inhumane Livestock Handling Is Costly

New Orleans (AP)—Shippers who are inhumane to livestock sent to packers aren't doing the humans any favor either, Carlton E. Buttrick, field secretary of the American Humane Society, believes.

Buttrick said in a speech that 50,000,000 pounds of meat worth about $12,000,000 is lost each year through improper handling of livestock, especially mixing of animals in shipment.

The losses are from death enroute, or bruising of meat which must be trimmed out after slaughtering.

WELFARE LOAD IS INCREASING

Cost For Delta County During Past Month Totaled $47,452

An increasing number of persons receiving old age assistance in Delta county, and a continued upward trend in the direct relief case load, is revealed in figures for the month of March supplied by A. M. Gilbert, director of the Delta county social welfare board.

Total cost of welfare operations for the county for March was $47,452.23 compared with $40,373.74 for March last year. The increased cost occurs largely because of the added welfare load. The county bears only a comparatively small portion of the entire cost, with the majority of the cost paid from state and federal funds.

The number of direct relief cases increased from 266 one year ago to 301 this year. Old age assistance cases increased from 810 to 830, and aid to dependent children from 163 to 170. The number of aid to the blind cases was 11, the same as one year ago.

Cost of old age assistance, aid to dependent children and aid to the blind totaled $36,895.30 and is paid equally by state and federal funds.

Direct relief, county welfare and hospital, county infirmary and administrative costs totaled $10,556.93. Direct relief alone was $7,404.22 compared with $5,265.57 one year ago. Direct relief is financed by state and county funds, while infirmary, county welfare and administrative costs are paid wholly by county funds.

Administrative costs for March were $1,086.73, compared with $1,245.21 in March last year.

FIRE DESTROYS KAIFACZ BARN

26 Head Of Lifestock, Farm Machinery Lost Near Bark River

Fire which may have started from defective wiring yesterday morning destroyed a large barn on the Peter Kaifacz farm south of Bark River, killing 26 head of livestock, a number of chickens and the farm dog. The loss, which included farm machinery in a shed attached to the barn, was partly covered by insurance.

The fire had made considerable headway when it was discovered about 11 o'clock in the morning. Whipped by a high wind the flames quickly destroyed the barn, the implement shed, and for a time threatened the Kaifacz farm home, some 200 feet distant from the barn.

The Bark River volunteer fire department, responding to the call for assistance, saved the home from the flames.

The Kaifacz farm is located three miles south and one-half mile west of Bark River.

Included in the 26 head of livestock were two horses, two hogs, and the remainder the herd of cattle. The large barn, 70 feet long and about 30 feet wide, also housed a quantity of hay.

Daylight Savings Time Goes Into Effect Here At 2 a.m. On Sunday

Daylight saving time officially goes into effect in Escanaba at two o'clock Sunday morning and citizens are reminded to turn their clocks ahead an hour before retiring tonight.

Though it's "fast" time for Escanaba and Delta county, the change will only make the time the same as that in most parts of Michigan, which is officially on Eastern Standard Time. It is optional with cities in the state to remain on standard or change to daylight saving time, and only a few Upper Peninsula communities are making the change.

Clocks will be moved forward, however, in six states and in many parts of 19 others at 2 a. m. Sunday to start postwar daylight saving time.

No Change in 24 States
But 24 other states and the District of Columbia, in a different frame of mind, will remain on standard time.

Daylight saving time was replaced by war time during the war, when clocks throughout the nation were set one hour ahead of standard time. That time system ended last September after three years and eight months.

The states which will have daylight saving time on a state-wide basis are: New Jersey, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont, and Connecticut. The states will observe the time change either by virtue of old laws, recent legislation or common consent.

Those states which will allow communities to make their own decision on the subject are:

West Virginia, Illinois, Minnesota, Florida, Michigan, South Carolina, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, New Mexico, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Ohio, Louisiana, New York, Delaware, Oregon and Maine. Almost all of Maine will be on daylight saving time, and most of Oregon on regular time.

The following states will not observe the time change.

Washington, Oklahoma, California, Georgia, Alabama, Iowa, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, North Carolina, Wisconsin, Arizona, Kansas, Utah, Idaho, Virginia, North Dakota, South Dakota, Arkansas, Mississippi, Texas, Nebraska and Nevada.

Glass Fly Rods Promised Anglers

Kalamazoo, Mich.—Glass-fiber fly rods are promised in quantities for fishermen for the next season. They are now under "field" tests by a few favored sportsmen on this season's spring trout. If the men—and the fish—like the rod it will be quickly put into production.

Made of glass fibers held together and reinforced with a special heat-hardened water-resistant resin, it is designed to replace the century-old favorite, the six-section-bamboo rod.

The fiber used in the new fish-rod is the familiar high-strength glass fiber used in the preparation of structural airplane parts, insulation on underground piping, fabrics and other articles. The parallel glass fibers are laid over a light-weight non-structural tapered wood core and bonded with a synthetic resin. The manufacturers, the Shakespear Company here, claim the new rod to be lighter in weight and more satisfactory than a bamboo rod. It has increased strength and great elasticity.

Manufacture of floor and wall tile has been greatly speeded up since 1920 through the widespread use of kilns which operate continuously.

It'll Be A Dog's Life For Canine Pets After May 1

It will really be a dog's life for a lot of canine pets in the city after May 1 if their owners—many of whom seem indifferent about the matter—don't renew their licenses and keep the animals more or less confined to their own back yards after that date.

All dogs over four months of age are supposed to be licensed. In addition to that, a city ordinance passed two years ago, says that the animals are to be kept on a leash or otherwise restrained from running loose during the growing season, May 1 to September 1. Dogs caught running loose are impounded for 48 hours and it costs the animal's owner $1.50 to "bail" him out.

"That man," the dog catcher will be around after May 1 to pick up stray unlicensed animals and others who look unwanted and have no tag to prove they are.

Dog licenses cost $2 for females, $1 for males and are available at the municipal police station.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Behind the conventional language of the message that President Truman radioed from the U. S. S. Princeton on the death of Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone was an admiration and respect which the President has often expressed with great warmth in discussing the supreme court.

Childs

The fact is that he has always been on the side of the strict constructionists who would limit the function of the court to legal interpretation. That is the battle which Stone fought through most of his career on the high court.

It was the battle he was fighting when he was fighting with new dealers hailed him as a liberal. They misread his dissents. What this plain New Englander was saying was this: if Congress wants to pass damn fool laws, then Congress has a right to pass damn fool laws so long as they come within the framework of the constitution.

It was the battle the Chief Justice was fighting when he was struck on the bench. For him it was another skirmish in a war without end.

—FLAG SALUTE CASE—
The feeling on the court in recent years went very deep. Stone's ambition was to lead a court in which a sizable majority, if not all the eight associate justices, would follow his lead. He was doomed to disappointment as his court split repeatedly, often going in several different directions.

At least once, Stone uttered a solitary dissent. That was in 1940 in the compulsory flag salute case. His words rang out in bold challenge in defense of the rights of the individual even in time of stress and hysteria. That dissent was read on June 3, 1940. Three years later, on June 14, 1943, a majority of the justices reversed themselves and upheld the right of an individual who refused to conform.

On the court, as reshaped by the appointments of President Roosevelt, Stone's closest friend was Justice Robert H. Jackson. As a strict constructionist, Jackson has usually gone along with his chief, even when they were in the minority.

Along with their similarity in viewpoint went a warm friendship. The two men had in common a sturdy farm background. They shared a realism that seemed to come out of the soil of an earlier America.

If the new chief justice is selected from the members of the court, Jackson is the logical choice. He would carry on the tradition of Stone. President Truman's sympathies and convictions are in that same direction. Moreover, he has a personal admiration for Jackson and is deeply grateful to him for accepting the grueling assignment as prosecutor at the Nuremberg war-crime trials.

—WANTS HIGH STANDARD—
The President takes with the utmost seriousness his responsibility for appointing federal judges. He feels that, in this department, his predecessor was too casual and even too careless. Certainly under Roosevelt, there were some curious appointments to the federal bench.

Truman is determined to set a high standard. His only previous appointment to the supreme court went, after much solitary heart-searching, to former Senator Harold H. Burton of Ohio. The appointment of Burton, a Republican, helped to redress the balance of the court, which had been heavily Democratic.

Against one present-day trend, Stone stood out strongly. He was opposed to the use of members of the court on special assignments. A supreme court justice, as Stone saw it, was a craftsman of the law. Consecrated for life to his special function.

In the same way, Stone was critical of those who left the bench for political reasons. This man, who grew up in the White Mountains of New Hampshire, believed that, when you went on the court, you foreswore the world from that point henceforward.

Only very reluctantly did he give his consent to Jackson's back-breaking assignment in Germany. For more reasons than one, he was reluctant to see his friend and colleague depart for what would inevitably be an extended assignment. He knew that the work of the court would be held up to some extent and as a conscientious workman, that troubled him.

One of Chief Justice Stone's last appearances was at the opening performance here in Washington of the play "The Magnificent Yankee," based on the life of the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes. That was the era he came out of, the great tradition of Holmes and Brandeis. His passing marks the end of that era.

Korreet" on a campaign banner in an Ohio political campaign of 1840.

Another theory is mentioned in De Vere's "Americanisms": "The story goes that General Jackson (Old Hickory) was not much at home in the art of spelling. The President employed the letters O. K. as an endorsement of communications for office, and other matters. They were intended to stand for 'All Correct' which the old gentleman preferred writing 'Oll Korreet'."

Good Morning!

TIME AND PLACE—All over the country (in spots) folks will be turning their clocks ahead one hour to "save" one hour of daylight during the summer months.

Donathan

It will set your clock ahead one hour when you go to bed. When you get up in the morning you will have had one less hour of night but you will have one more hour of daylight that day and on each day throughout the summer.

This additional hour of daylight will give you time to ponder over the question of our changing times in the United States. And if you try to understand all of the reasons behind the opposition to, and the proponents favoring daylight saving time, it will take at least one hour a day.

A PERSONAL THING—The time we get up, eat, go to school, catch a train, or go to bed is a highly personal thing. It is a matter between the individual and his watch or clock. As soon as someone starts "tinkering with the time" we are collectively aroused and disturbed. Some one is doing something without asking us how we feel about it.

Time was when a clock meant little. We went to bed shortly after sunset, or if we stayed up, sat glowingly by a fire or candle. In the morning we arose at sunrise or thereabouts because we had "gone to bed with the chickens" and were ready to arise.

Then Mr. Edison invented an electric light bulb, and now you can stay awake all night if you wish, bathed in the rays of a synthetic sun. In the morning you will pull the shades to keep the sunlight out of your room.

CAN'T BE DONE—If you are one of those vigorous persons who works in the out-of-doors, or like to get out for an airing after a day in the office, daylight saving time will be an advantage. The above observation is made with full knowledge that farmers will immediately tell you that "cows can't tell time" and must be milked at a certain hour regardless of the clock. This contention may have some special meaning, for it has been heard in the halls of congress, in the state legislature and at town meetings. Just what it does mean has never been explained to the satisfaction of persons who are not on milking terms with a cow.

Leaving the cow out of the question, daylight saving time is an advantage to all other animals, including office workers, with whom we are more familiar. For them the question of time is a relatively simple problem of hours of daylight.

It is universally recognized that days are longer in spring and summer. Unless the clocks are put ahead, the sun is high before the time the workday is finished. You can adjust the clocks to correct this condition, but you cannot adjust the sun—it just can't be done, even for the benefit of the cows.

IN MICHIGAN—(Up until the beginning of World War II Michigan had Central Standard Time, which is the time we now have in the Delta peninsula and in the western Upper Peninsula. War Time advanced the clocks of the Announcement has been received here of the birth of a seven pound son to Mr. and Mrs. James J. Gately of Miami Beach, Fla., on April 25. Mrs. Gately is the former Lynnea Back, daughter of John S. Back, of Escanaba.

Mrs. Christian L. Riegel, newly elected president of the Escanaba Parents' Teachers' Association Council and delegate of the council, left Monday for Benton Harbor, where she will attend the nineteenth annual convention of the Michigan Parents and Teacher which is opening Wednesday.

Snow, which started early yesterday morning and continued throughout the day, left a thick blanket of slush over Escanaba.

Theodore Nelson was not guilty of negligence, a jury which heard the evidence in the case brought against him by Mrs. Katrina Barnat, decided yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. William Bonifas and Mrs. Nicholas Gunter left on Monday for New York, where they will sail for a visit of several months with relatives in Europe. Mrs. Bonifas will visit with relatives in Ireland, France, Germany and Luxembourg while Mrs. Gunter will proceed directly to Luxembourg where she will attend the golden wedding anniversary of her parents.

nation one hour. When the war ended, the Michigan legislature adopted Eastern Standard Time (the same as the old War Time) as official for the state.

While it was the official time, some communities, and the whole western area of the Upper Peninsula refused to go along and kept on Central Standard Time. Exception is the Copper Country, which is on "fast" or Eastern Time.

Now with the long summer days at hand, the "Standard Time communities" are changing over to daylight saving by advancing their clocks one hour. Some of them, that is, in Menominee the council voted against daylight time, although a poll being taken by the Menominee Herald-Leader shows the public in favor of it by a big majority.

Escanaba annually goes on daylight saving time. While this becomes effective tomorrow (April 28) the thing to do is to put your clocks ahead one hour before you retire tonight.

IT MIGHT BE WELL—Since Eastern Standard Time is now official for the entire state of Michigan, and since Michigan folks during the war found War Time (which was the same as Eastern Standard for this state) altogether satisfactory, it might be well for Escanaba and all other communities to follow the state's lead and hold to fast time the year around.

What do you want to know? We will answer questions on any subject, legal or medical advice cannot be given. Write your question clearly, sign your name and address, and (IMPORTANT) MAIL THIS COUPON and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to (Escanaba Daily Press) SERVICE BUREAU 1217 Thirtieth St., Washington 5, D. C., for a personal reply. Don't telephone; write as directed.

G. I.—VETERANS SERVICE

Q. How many States now give bonuses to veterans?

A. There are only three states currently giving bonuses to eligible, veterans—New Hampshire, Massachusetts, and Vermont. New Jersey gives a $500 annual pension to blind veterans.

Q. When I went to camp I submitted my marriage certificate and the birth records of my two children. How may I recover them?

A. You will have to get certified copies and send them to the appropriate agency where you originally filed the documents. Ask that agency to exchange the originals for your duplicates.

OF GENERAL INTEREST

Q. What is the purpose of the unemployment insurance provision under the Social Security Act?

A. To provide regular, weekly payments for insured wage earners who are out of work. The system is operated by the States and the Federal Government pays the cost of administration. Each state has its own law on the subject.

Q. When was Wheeling the capital of West Virginia?

A. In 1861, during the Civil War, Wheeling was made the capital of the "restored government of Virginia" by the Virginians opposed to secession. It became the State capital from 1863 to 1870, and again from 1875 to 1885.

Q. I have some old prints that have been in the family for a great many years. Several years ago I discarded them because they had apparently gone out of style. I have been told that they are quite the vogue just now. Is that true? How should they be framed?

A. Bits of Americana, such as colored pages from Godey's Ladies Book, and old lithographs depicting past events, are apparently in popular favor now. They look well and in character in simple mahogany frames or frames with a fine gold beading. They can be hung singly or in groups and look well in almost any room in the home.

DOG AND CAT BOOK

A 32-page booklet on breeds, characteristics, care, treatment of disease, and training of dogs and cats now available; also, a 400-word bulletin AQUARIUM FISHES—hints on selection, care and feeding. To get both copies, send to cover cost of mailing and handling, your name and address clearly written, to Washington Service Bureau, 1217 13th St., Washington 5, D. C.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—It didn't get into the papers, but President Truman sat down the other day with Secretary of the Treasury Fred Vinson and Democratic National committee vice-chairman Dick Nacy to discuss the Southern rebellion against Bob Hannegan.

Pearson

Nacy told Truman that the Southerners were up in arms over the last erroneous letter sent out of national committee headquarters and signed by Bob Hannegan, urging Democratic leaders to pick good candidates this time.

The letter was interpreted by Southerners as indicating a purge of all Democrats; so Nacy told Truman that "Dixie Democrats now wanted a new letter from Hannegan endorsing all Democratic members of congress for reelection."

Truman replied that he would agree to no such thing. He said if the Democratic national committee endorsed all Democratic members of congress, it would put Democrats who entered the primaries at a disadvantage. The President was thinking particularly of certain districts where Democrats may be booted out in the primaries by other Democrats who very much agree with the Truman program.

Finally the President said: "There will be no new letter. The national committee has admitted its error. I am fully satisfied that Bob Hannegan knows how to run his own affairs. I am going to continue to let him run them, too."

And that was that.

—SLITTING BYRNES'S THROAT—

No man in the U. S. government needs more support today than Jimmy Byrnes, now struggling to straighten out the tangled skeins of peace. Yet, while he is in Paris, certain die-hards on Capitol Hill have been busy as birds dogs cutting his appropriations throat.

One of Byrnes's strongest peace weapons is the goodwill of the Russian people. If they are friendly to the U. S., his hand is strengthened 100 per cent with their bosses in the Kremlin. Proof of this is the way the government-controlled Moscow radio has been blasting away at the Russian people about decadent U. S. capitalism, millions of U. S. unemployed, and alleged U. S. efforts to bull doze Russia.

One small start toward countering this is an illustrated magazine "Amerika," published by the State Department and circulated in Russia to the tune of 10,000 copies. This is all the Kremlin will let in despite Russia, though negotiations are now underway to increase the circulation to 50,000.

In the middle of these negotiations, however, niggardly Representative Louis Rabaut, Michigan Democrat, nearly ran his knife through the State Department's appropriation for "Amerika." Apparently disapproving of the idea of penetrating the Soviet "iron curtain," he and a majority of his appropriations sub-committee decided in effect to tell Byrnes what he should or should not do in Russia.

Crowe Says Bay de Noc Means 'Of The Channel'

BY JAMES A. O. CROWE
St. Ignace, Mich. (AP)—Michigan is riddled with French names which are enduring blazes on the trails of the first white men.

This story is dated from the site of an early mission founded by the Jesuits and named for St. Ignatius.

The missionaries entered Michigan first at the eastern end of the Upper Peninsula. Coming upon a tract of white water flashing through green forests, the priests are said to have been overcome with admiration. They decided anything so beautiful should bear the name of the Blessed Virgin.

They called it the rapids of St. Mary—Sault Ste. Marie, and it became the site of the first permanent settlement in the state.

Lake St. Clair was so named because Robert Sieur de LaSalle entered it on August 12, 1679, the feast day of the saint.

The French king in 1699 authorized a fort at "the place of the strait (lieu du Detroit)." The word became the name of the state's metropolis.

Bay de Noc

The French had only time to explore and settle along Michigan's shorelines before control was wrested from them by the British. So it is that the only coasts bear French names.

The Eastern shore has Grosse (Big) Pointe, Pointe Aux Barques (of boats), Point Au Gres (of Sandstone), the Au Sable (Sandy) River, and Presque Isle (almost an island).

Venturing along the southern shore of the Upper Peninsula, they left names like Point La Barbe (Beard Point), because the woodsmen stopped there to shave before they arrived at Fort Mackinac, Point Aux Chenes (of the Oak Trees), Seul Choix (only choice) Point, Point DeTour, and Big and Little Bay de Noc (of the channel).

Along North Shore

Along the North Shore are Au Train Bay, Point Abbaye, and Bete Gris (gray beast) Bay. Around a mission Keveanaw Bay, a settlement grew up and was called "The Bay" in French "L'Asne."

On Lake Michigan, southwest of the Straits of Mackinac, a cluster of huts on the edge of the forest was named for an early explorer, Pierre Francois Xavier De Charlevoix.

A stream entering Lake Michigan at Ludington was called the Pere Marquette by the men who buried the young missionary at its mouth.

The canoeing voyageurs hugged the coasts whenever they could but when they made for the Green Bay country in Wisconsin, they had to cross Lake Michigan's open water. They left the Michigan shore at a bay they named for the "great crossing"—"Grand Traverse."

REAPPRAISAL FINISHED HERE

Valuation Cards Given To City; Inspection Will Be Invited

Reappraisal of real property in Gladstone has been completed by the Clemenishaw company and valuation cards have been turned over to the city offices.

The total of property valuations in this city as found by the appraisers is $2,918,316 in comparison with the $2,369,143 as set by the state tax commission.

With the personal property valuations of over $500,000 the total figure would be somewhere in the neighborhood of $3,400,000.

However, this is not a final figure as there will be same adjustments.

Local property owners are going to be invited to come in and look over their valuations as set by the appraisers. Complaint forms will be available in the event the person is not satisfied.

CITY WORKS ON CEMETARY

New Area Is Developed, Landscaping Well Underway

Munising—The Munising cemetery has undergone a cleaning up during the past few months and by Memorial Day it is hoped by the department of public works that the landscaping plan will be well on its way to completion.

Two hundred feet on each side of the entrance have been leveled and seeded. It is planned to landscape this area with trees and flower beds as soon as the grass has grown sufficiently. Water lines are now being laid into the new area for sprinkling purposes.

In the east part of the cemetery an area 300 feet long and 100 feet wide has been stumped and will be leveled off during the summer months.

The American Legion lots are also having a redecoration program. All the grave markers are being aligned in military fashion and the mound of sand holding the two small flags is to be covered with sod. The Catholic and Protestant plaques, bearing the names of those dead seeing military service, will be put on the monument in the next week or so.

League Had Housing Troubles Back In '19

(Editors Note: The United Nations' troubles in selecting a permanent site are nothing new in world organization circles. As the dissolving League of Nations meets in Geneva to wind up its affairs, a leading Swiss journalist recalls in the following dispatch the headaches the League once had in finding its headquarters and backdrops the possible effects U. N. headquarters might have on the locale selected.)

By RODO MAHERT
President, Press Assn. of Geneva (Written for NEA Service, Inc.)
Geneva, Switzerland, (NEA).—The same hesitancy, the same negotiations, the same discussions and, as a matter of fact, the same intrigues which have surrounded the designation of the headquarters of the United Nations took place 25 years ago, although perhaps with less publicity, in connection with the League of Nations.

As early as Dec. 17, 1918, in a memorandum to the British Government, Lord Robert Cecil made the first allusion to Geneva as the seat of the future league. The allusion flew across the Atlantic and President Wilson from the first favorably inclined towards the suggestion.

Prestige
This was sufficient to promote in various European countries the immediate idea of snatching from Geneva the chance which she had been given. All were conscious of the many material advantages and the prestige involved. France had Versailles; Belgium had Brussels; Holland had The Hague; all three offered to house the League. Vienna and other cities put in their bids.

On March 22, 1919, by 19 votes to 12, the special commission appointed by the Peace Conference finally decided on Geneva. From that day on there were countless maneuvers to have the decision rescinded, or at any rate delayed as long as possible.

At the end of 1920 the League of Nations finally met. Although attempts were again made to hold the meeting elsewhere than Geneva, these were fruitless, thanks again to President Wilson. The die was cast and on Sept. 9, 1929, the first stone of the Ariana palace was laid. Construction took seven years, and next to the palace of Versailles, it is the largest building in Europe and perhaps even in the world.

During construction the League sat in various buildings in Geneva. The secretariat installed its numerous offices in a large hotel. The council took advantage of the situation to leave its headquarters at frequent intervals and undertake a sort of tour of Europe.

In 1920, first year of its activity, the League of Nations grouped 41 States. They increased to 60 at the peak of the League's importance. There were still 54 members at the beginning of 1939

HS MUSICIANS SCORE BIG HIT

Capacity Crowd Attends Concert Thursday Evening

A capacity crowd greeted the second of the year's concerts of Manistique high school's musical groups at the school auditorium Friday evening.

The concert, in which the high school band, the girls' glee clubs and the mixed ensemble participated, along with several soloists, was acclaimed as the best given by the school in years.

Receiving the most enthusiastic applause were the vocal solos of Miss Betty Gola and Miss Margaret Burgess. Miss Gola's presentation of Schubert's "Serenade" was unusually effective, and Miss Burgess' vocalizing of "Il Bacio" showed particular skill with a very difficult number. Both singers responded to encores.

Numbers by the band brought cheers as well as hand clapping from the audience, especially so when presentation was made of an impromptu "Jitterbug" number.

Numbers by the combined Girls' Glee clubs and the Mixed Ensemble pleased the audience as did also a trombone solo by Ray Norheim.

Toward the close of the concert, members of the school band who are to graduate this year were introduced and were notified that honor awards were to be presented to them in the near future. They in turn presented the leader, Joseph Giovanni, with a gift.

Members of the high school ensemble and the girls' chorus are in Escanaba today participating in the Upper Peninsula Music Festival which is on at this time. About eighty are leaving Manistique for Escanaba by bus to participate in the activities which will be on throughout the day.

In the evening picked groups of musicians will participate in numbers by massed ensembles, choirs and orchestras.

Next Saturday the band will go to Marquette to participate in a high school band festival.

Miss Margaret Johnson is in charge of local vocal groups and Joseph Giovanni is director of the school band.

COOKS MATRON PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Augusta Wallin Died Thursday At Home Of Daughter

Mrs. Augusta M. Wallin, 72, of Cooks, died Thursday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Bockorny, South Cedar street. She had been ill for the past three weeks.

Mrs. Wallin, nee Augusta M. Nelson, was born in Sweden on May 6, 1873 and came to this country 54 years ago. She made her home in Escanaba where she married John Wallin who preceded her in death several years ago. Several years after their marriage they moved to Cooks which has been their home ever since.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Bockorny and a grandchild. The body is now at the Morton Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements are as yet incomplete.

Warning Issued To People Receiving Dependency Checks

It has come to the attention of the Office of Veterans Affairs that some local people are cashing government checks who are not entitled to do so.

These cases, says Leonard Mulhaupt, have to do with families receiving dependency checks after the period in which they are entitled to them is past. These dependency checks, says Mulhaupt, are good only one month after the veteran is discharged. Sometimes these checks continue to come, but that does not mean that they are to be cashed. Should they be cashed without authorization, they will have to be repaid. This may work a hardship on many people, and the warning is issued to save them from unnecessary embarrassment.

Briefly Told

Ervin Miller, of Seney, was tried in justice court Friday morning on a charge of violation of the trapping laws and was found guilty. He was fined $25 and costs.

The charges were preferred against him by Harold Peters, conservation officer, who made the arrest.

Veterinarian Gives 5-Point Program To Curb Mastitis

It is estimated that approximately 25 per cent of the milking dairy animals are affected with mastitis, according to Dr. George Weaver, extension specialist in animal pathology, Michigan State College.

Mastitis is an inflammation of the udder, and dairy cows with the disease produce about 20 per cent less milk with approximately a 50 per cent drop in quality.

Dr. Weaver makes these recommendations to help the dairy producer with his problem of mastitis:

1. Follow good sanitary milking procedure.

Draft Examinations Set For 35 Delta County Men In May

Thirty-five Delta county men will be called for pre-induction physical examinations in May, county draft officials were informed yesterday by state headquarters.

The men will leave here for Chicago the night of May 20.

The group will probably be made up mostly of high school senior students, none of whom will be drafted until after their graduation in June.

National legislators are still discussing the draft law extension and the status of teen age registrants but no final action has been taken.

Hearing Recessed Until Monday In Prison Ouster Case

Lansing, April 26 (P)—Civil service commission hearings on the reinstatement appeal of six former employees of the state civil service commission recessed until Monday after the appellants ran out of witnesses after 35 minutes of hearing this morning.

Attorneys for Harry H. Jackson, former warden, promised the commission to present 10 more witnesses when hearings resume.

Seeking reinstatement with Jackson are former Deputy Warden George I. Francis, former Guard Inspector Walter L. Wilson, former Inmate Accountant Joseph G. Poirier, former Records Clerk H. C. Watson and former Athletic Director Richard T. Riley. They were discharged last summer after Attorney General John B. Dethmer charged that the conditions in the prison were either untrue, exaggerated, or biased reports of conditions found in all prisons.

Testimony was taken briefly today from Charles N. Rainey, prison laundry superintendent; Joseph J. Dembowski, a guard; Claude E. Raymond, guard sergeant assigned to the hospital, and Harry Sairs, superintendent of the prison radio division.

Mr. And Mrs. Lawrence, Escanabans, Are Both Killed In Train Crash

Naperville, Ill., April 26. (P)—Mr. and Mrs. Matthew L. Lawrence of Escanaba, Mich., were identified today as victims of the crash of the Burlington Railroad's Exposition Flyer into the Advance Flyer here Thursday.

They are the only victims identified as residents of Michigan thus far.

News of the death of Mr. Lawrence was received in Escanaba Thursday but it was not discovered until Friday morning that his wife was also a victim of the tragic collision.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence were identified at Oliver Beidelman mortuary in Naperville Friday by Matt Lawrence Jr., the Lawrences' younger son, whom the elderly couple were on their way to visit.

Craig Lawrence, elder of the Lawrences' two sons, was in Chicago yesterday to make funeral arrangements and will arrive in Escanaba this morning.

Funeral services will be held in Escanaba and burial will be made in Oshkosh, Wis., the Lawrences' former home.

Well known and highly respected Escanabans, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence both were members of the First Methodist church here. Mrs. Lawrence was 71 years of age, her husband 80. Mr. Lawrence was manager for many years of the American Railway Express company's agency here and retired ten years ago.

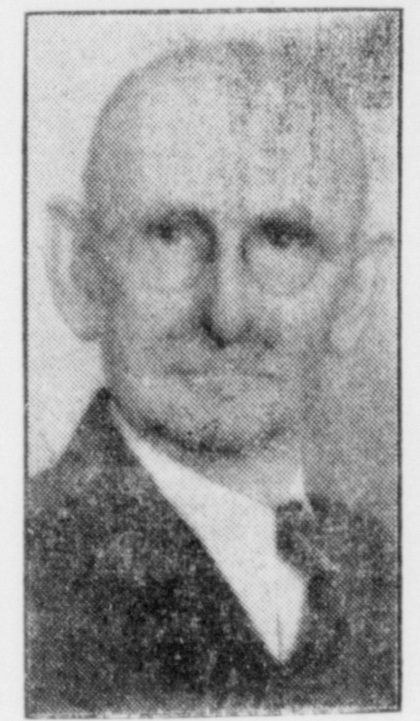

Their only surviving sons, Craig Lawrence of Greenwich, Conn., is a vice president of the Cowles Broadcasting company of Des Moines, Ia., and general manager of radio stations WHOM, of New York City, and WCOB, of Boston, Mass.; and Matthew L. Lawrence Jr., is advertising director of the Ottumwa, Ia., Courier. A number of grandchildren also survive.

Mrs. Lawrence, who was born in Wales, is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Bessie Bascom, Whitehall, N. Y., and Sadie Thomas, Green Bay, Wis.

Drilling operations for oil and gas have been started on Quebec's Gaspe Peninsula, where one well was dug back in 1861.

He was born Sept. 5, 1866, at Uddevalla, Sweden, and came to the United States in 1888. He was pensioned by the railroad in 1937 after 50 years of work, and the same year also celebrated his golden wedding anniversary with Mrs. Johnson, who died in 1941. Mr. Johnson was a faithful member of the Bethany Lutheran church, and one of the oldest members of the congregation. He was also a member of the North Star lodge.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Emil Dietrich (Linnea) of Hyde; Mrs. Harvey Naegel (Ruth) of Chicago; Mrs. Grover Jensen (Anna) of Escanaba; four sons, Turner and Ralph Johnson of Detroit; Stuart Johnson of Laurel, Mont.; 16 grandchildren, one great-grandchild; one sister, Mrs. Simon Johnson of Channing.

Exclusive Michigan Bell Tower Taken Over For Offices

East Lansing, April 26 (P)—When the man "who makes the bells toll" from Michigan State college's Beaumont tower arrives for his daily 8 a. m. concert from now on, he'll have to work his way through several offices.

The campus landmark, used exclusively in the past as a meeting place for "tower guards," M. S. C. sophomore women's honorary, has been converted into a temporary office building because of crowded conditions at the college. It will be used by nine instructors in the basic college.

Secretary Karl H. McDonel explained that the decision to use the tower for offices came as a last resort after several elevator shafts in two M. S. C. classroom buildings had been converted into offices.

"We even built an office in the check room of the college auditorium," McDonel said, adding humorously, "I guess we'll have to build offices in the elevator cars themselves next."

Use of the tower will be a novelty for faculty members. Tradition has barred all but "tower guard" members and the Carillon player from the building in the past except on special occasions.

Musicians Awarded 33 Per Cent Raise By Movie Studios

New York, April 25. (P)—The American Federation of Musicians (AFM) and eight motion picture studios announced today they had agreed upon a 33 per cent pay increase.

The musicians union originally had sought a 100 per cent wage boost for all musicians under annual contract to the studios.

On the principal issues, the union accepted a guaranteed annual wage of $6,916 instead of the demanded $10,400 for contract musicians now receiving $5,200, and abandoned a demand that they be paid on an hour-worked-per-week basis rather than the present basis of cumulative hours worked annually.

Under the agreement, the studios will pay overtime for hours worked over 560 annually, rather than 10 hours weekly, as the union originally requested.

The settlement also provided that the minimum number of musicians employed by major studios be increased from 35 to 50 men, and from 25 to a scale ranging up to 36 for Columbia, Universal and Republic.

The union's original request had been for a minimum of 90 men in each studio.

Roxas Has 125,000 Lead In Philippines Race For President

Manila, Saturday, April 27 (P)—Manuel Roxas steadily mounting lead over President Sergio Osmena passed 125,000 today with more than half the total vote counted—a trend which already had drawn a left-handed acknowledgement of defeat from the incumbent's quarters.

An official compilation released at noon (11 p. m. Eastern Standard time Friday) by the election commission of the returns from 630 towns in the Philippines gave:

Roxas 850,388; Osmena 725,272. Elpidio Quirino, Roxas' vice-presidential candidate, however, held only a 3,774 vote lead over Eulogio Rodriguez, Osmena's running mate. The voters cast separate votes for president and vice president.

A highly-placed source in the Malacanang Palace last night declared "the election is being stolen and there's apparently nothing that can be done about it."

EX-POLICEMAN FREED
Jackson (P)—William Hartorne, ex-Detroit policeman, sentenced in 1937 to serve from 14 to 15 years for killing his wife, was released on parole from Southern Michigan Prison, Acting Warden Ralph E. Benson reported. He was paroled to a hospital where he will be an x-ray technician, a trade he learned in prison.

Says Conversation Is Not Necessary

Quincy, Mass. (P)—Oscar A. Minot, 72, who has completed 50 years as a barber feels that conversation is not an essential part of his trade. Says he:

"I never inflict my views on a customer. Unless he wants to talk I work in silence."

A person who is now 20 years old and who sleeps about eight hours each night, has 16 years of sleep ahead of him, if he lives to the age of 70.

War-Pent Vacation Flood Bursts On Packed Hotels

BY CARLE HODGE

(P) Newsfeatures Writer
New York—Vacationers, like nylon buyers, are crowding into line early and grabbing what they can get. Lack of hotel space is the problem this year. Transportation is eased.

Travel experts, an Associated Press survey discloses, herald a flood of summer tourists that will dwarf any past vacation year and spend from six to 10 billion dollars, up to twice as much as ever before.

With pleasure trips to Europe and the Orient still forbidden, 1946 will be a see-the-Americans-first year and the season will begin earlier and last longer.

Vacations will cost more, but this is the planned-for, saved-for vacation year to hundreds of thousands of Americans, stranded at home four years by war and then by the tide of homecoming warriors.

They will jam-pack hotels to capacity, turn highways into rivers of touring cars, cram trains and buses and climb, in record numbers, into the airways.

Many will be disappointed. Make Reservations Early

Virtually no new hotels have been built since before Pearl Harbor, and even with those relinquished by the armed forces after the war, not all the would-be travelers eyeing midsummer jaunts can be housed. The increased number of tourists simply will be too much.

From both North and South America the tip to travellers is the same: Hotel reservations must be made early.

The transportation prospect is brighter. By June, railroads will have received little new equipment, because of strikes and shortages in the plants that turn out rolling stock. But almost all coaches and Pullmans, their demobilization job done, are carrying multi again.

Planes and Ships
The wingspread of the airlines has increased manifold since V-J day. With fleets of new planes, many reconvered warcraft, they'll carry more passengers—and at a faster pace — this summer than ever.

Officially, except for the war-wrecked countries, where only essential business trips are allowed, all travel bars are down. But ships, still piping food into hungry Europe, are scarce for pleasure trips, even around the Americas.

The first cruise since 1941, the American Express says, will sail to the West Indies aboard the Norwegian luxury motorship Stella Polaris.

Beginning June 29, the Stella, seized early in the war by the Nazis and fitted out as a U-boat officers' club, will make four trips out of New York.

The Grace Line will run ships through the Panama Canal to South America's west coast, and the Delta Line, after July, from New Orleans to South America's east coast.

Other southward lines will be unable to ready their vessels before fall, at the earliest, however, and most of the South America tour trade will be airborne.

If the Americas are wide open, so are tourists' pocketbooks.

The American Express says vacations will cost about 15 per cent more than before the war—besides a 15 per cent luxury tax on transportation.

Food and sightseeing costs generally are higher, and not all hotels operate under OPA ceilings. California motor courts charge from $2.50 to $6 a night. Their pre war price was $1.50.

Season Limits Stretched

To skirt the hotel shortage, many travellers will continue a trick they learned during the war—taking vacations early or late.

Actually, the experts say, there will be no well-defined summer vacation season. Resorts, to meet the demand, are running full tilt the year around.

Cape Cod hotels, which formerly opened in June, are taking guests in April and May. Florida normally a winter resort, will remain open all summer.

For the first time since 1941, all of America's 169 national parks and monuments will be open—and they expect a record-breaking 25,000,000 visitors.

New National Parks
Thousands will visit the new shrine at Hyde Park, N. Y., where Franklin D. Roosevelt lies buried in a hedge-rimmed rose garden on his ancestral estate.

Other new national parks and monuments — Jackson Hole in Wyoming, Richmond battlefield in Virginia, Fort Frederica in Georgia and Texas' sprawling Big Bend — will be scenic and historic magnets drawing millions more.

In Canada, always a favorite of U. S. tourists, the famed hotels at Banff and Lake Louise will unbar their doors after wartime closings.

Mexico expects 30 per cent more tourists than in 1944 and hopes it can accommodate them all. To Bermuda and the Bahamas, transportation again is available, but hotel space is as rare as on the mainland.

The lack of hotel rooms is hemisphere-wide.

Hotel Waiting Lists
Typically, the Maine Tourist Association reports 22,000 persons

New Equipment, War Surplus, Is To Be Acquired By City

City Manager A. V. Aronson was informed yesterday by the War Assets Administration, Chicago, that the city's bid on 2 pieces of heavy equipment, a D4 caterpillar tractor and a bulldozer, had been accepted and that the necessary sales documents would be issued and forwarded within the next ten days.

The city will pay $3,145 for the war surplus equipment, which is new and still uncrated.

Arrangements for shipping the vehicles here will be made as soon as the sale is officially completed.

Heavy Frost Due For This Morning

Detroit, April 26 (P)—Michigan's farmers and orchardists were alerted again today for a heavy frost which the Detroit weather bureau said is due early Saturday.

Damage to fruit was reported from a wide area in Lower Michigan earlier this month when a similar freeze gripped orchards, but the state agricultural department said buds have since aged enough to escape serious danger.

Last night's low Detroit temperature was 39 and the weather bureau said the mercury will be at least seven degrees below that early Saturday. Other parts of the state may expect freezing temperatures and "heavy frost," the report added.

There are no wild land animals in the Solomon Islands.

It's Play Ball Time Again

Many things have changed in this world the past few years . . . but nothing could change the American spirit which shows up in full force at a baseball game . . . whether they listen in, or attend, Americans just let go and relax.

One other thing that won't change is the pleasure and relaxation folks get during, and after a game when they have a glass of that full bodied Old Craft Brew or extra pale Silver Cream Beer. Folks expect Menominee beers with their baseball, and will say, as now—
